Program for “The Business English Language” Entry Examination

For master programs: “Master in Management” (MIM),
“Master in Corporate Finance” (MCF),
“Master in Business Analytics and Big Data” (MiBA),
“Master in Smart City Management” (MSC)

The entrance examination in Business English for applicants to be enrolled in the master programs is held as either a test to assess the applicants' level of Business English language proficiency or submission of the applicant's result in exams and diplomas recognized as a substitution of the entrance test (see Section 4. ENTRY EXAMINATION TEST SUBSTITUTION).

Section 1. THE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION TEST STRUCTURE AND CONTENT

The test consists of three sections: Listening Comprehension, Structure and Written Expression and Reading Comprehension.

Listening Comprehension: 30 minutes;

Structure and Written Expression: 30minutes;

Reading Comprehension: 60 minutes.

1.1 The Listening Comprehension section is designed to test the following skills: to comprehend spoken conversations, infer the correct conclusion from conversations, answer the questions based on the information given in conversations. The Listening Comprehension section, which lasts for 30 minutes, comprises three parts. In the first part the applicants will hear short conversations between two people and get the gist of it. The next part consists of two longer conversations. The applicants will answer several questions. The last part comprises three passages from academic lectures or discussions followed by questions. Each of the listening passages lasts for about 2 minutes. Most of the tasks use multiple-choice questions with 3-4 choices in them.

1.2 The Structure and Written Expression section is designed to test the applicants' skills in English grammar. This section lasts for 30 minutes and comprises two tasks. The first task consists of the sentences in which a part of each sentence has been replaced with a blank space. Each sentence is followed by four answer choices. The second task consists of the sentences in which four words or groups of words have been underlined. The applicants will have to underline a word or a group of words that contains a grammar or lexical mistake.

The grammar knowledge which is subject to testing:

- Tenses
- Subject/predicate coordination
- Adverbial phrases
- Pronouns
- Comparative structures
- Parallel structures
- Prepositions and idioms.
- Irregular verbs (cost, spread, cast, lie, lay, etc.)
- V-ing – to V
- Used to, be used to, get used to
- Tense following after, as soon as, before, by the time, etc.
- Lexical difficulties (conscious, consciousness, conscience, conscientious, etc.)
- Countable – uncountable nouns (advice, knowledge, permission, etc.)

- Adverbs – adjectives (lovely, likely, cowardly, etc.)
- Inversion (e.g., following rarely, not once, not until, never, etc.)
- Degrees of comparison (Father-further, easier, etc.)
- Conditionals

1.3. The Reading Comprehension section lasts for 60 minutes and comprises five texts (of approximately 2000 characters). It is designed to test reading skills, extent of vocabulary, ability to deal with synonymy, knowledge of stylistic features of language, ability to guess the meaning of occasional unknown words from the context. All the texts are based on academic English.

The applicants for the master programs should demonstrate the following components of communicative competence:

- 1.3.1. Linguistic competence - command of a certain amount of knowledge, skills and experience in the field of vocabulary, grammar and phonetics necessary for foreign language communication.
- 1.3.2. Language competence - knowledge of language units and rules of putting them together.
- 1.3.3. Social and linguistic competence - ability to select and to use appropriate language patterns and means depending on the purpose and context of particular communication, as well as social roles of participants in communication
- 1.3.4. Compensatory competence - ability to solve various-complexity communication tasks using limited linguistic resources.
- 1.3.5. Information competence - ability to search, analyze and transform information.
